Honorable William Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

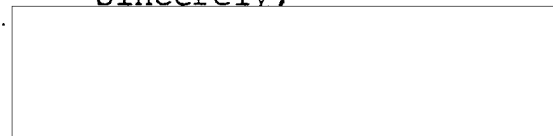

Dear Mr. Casey:

I would be delighted if you could join us for what promises to be a highly thought-provoking Science and Technology seminar on "Contra-tech: least favorite examples of progress." Adam Yarmolinsky, former Counselor to the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and Professor of Law at Harvard University, will discuss the profound dangers to a democratic society of uncontrolled technological innovation and present some criteria for making informed choices about the management of technological change. There will be a question-and-answer period following the address.

The seminar will be December 1 from 4:00 - 5:30 PM in the Wadsworth Room of the International Club (1800 K St. NW). We will welcome your selected representative if you cannot attend in person. Please call [redacted] if you plan to attend.
